

Featured in our microform collection

The Futurist

Film X2776

The Futurist is a bi-monthly magazine published since 1967 by the World Future Society. The magazine does not take a stand on what the future will or should be like; it strives to serve as a neutral clearinghouse of ideas. Articles include the name and address of the author or source to contact for more information.

The Futurist features articles written by experts in a wide range of fields: business, creativity, education, values, economics, environment and resources as well as news briefs, book reviews, and other items of interest from a wide variety of sources.

Influential futurists and experts who have contributed include: Gene Roddenberry, Newt Gingrich, Al Gore, Alvin and Heidi Toffler, Buckminster Fuller, Frederik Pohl, Isaac Asimov, Vaclav Havel, Hazel Henderson, Margaret Mead, Robert McNamara, B.F. Skinner, Nicholas Negroponte, Helena Norberg-Hodge, Arthur C. Clarke, Ray Kurzweil, David Walker, Edward Luttwak and James Woolsey.

This journal is useful for research in education, culture, history, economics and political science. This publication is available in print and issues from January 1989, are available through electronic subscription.